

Dear Resident,

RE: Notice board and cabin update at Sugar Hill

With Termrim preparing to begin laying the foundations of the new homes on the Sugar Hill redevelopment, we wanted to update you on the different ways you can get in touch to ask any questions you may have, as well as how to find out about the progress of the works.

Site cabin

As you may have already seen, Termrim's site cabin is now in place on Sugar Hill Close. We've attached a site plan showing the location of the cabin for reference, but please feel free to stop by and speak to the construction team about any questions you have between Monday to Thursday between 8.30am-4pm and Friday 8.30am-3pm.

In addition, a notice board has been put up next to the cabin which includes any updates on the construction programme and what work is in the pipeline.

If there are any works coming up that might cause some disruption to you and your neighbours, we will update you directly as we have done to date.

Microsite

Don't forget that you can also go to our microsite at <https://sugarhill.lfha.co.uk/> to read the latest FAQ's and most up-to-date information about the project. The site also features a visual timeline on the local updates page, so you can see how the scheme is progressing.

As always, if you have any questions about the scheme or the information in this update feel free to contact me directly on the details below.

Yours sincerely,
Dan Massey
